

My name is Erica Jacques Crosby, and I am proud to be an Egremont Eagle. I am a Los Angeles, California native. I received a Bachelor Degree in International Relations/ Political Science from the University of Southern California. I received my K-12 multiple subject teaching credential, and all graduate special education classes from California State Northridge University. I am attending Hawthorne Elementary School, Buckley Junior High School, and Marlborough Girls High School, here in Los Angeles.

My experience includes twenty years with Los Angeles Unified where I taught regular, SAS, and special education, in self-contained elementary school classrooms. I most recently came from the Los Angeles Archdiocese as an English Language Arts specialist in the Junior high classroom.

I have a true passion for working with our young learners!! Helping each child progress in all areas of their development—academic, social, language, and motor, is a challenge that I am honored to accept daily. I strive to create a community of learners that nurtures this growth in a positive, fun environment.

Personally, I have been married for over 30 years and have three children, two of which are now also in education! My youngest is currently in college at Loyola Marymount University. I also enjoy reading, cooking, music, walking my dogs, relaxing at the beach, and spending time with friends and family.

I look forward to working together with you as partners in your child's educational growth and development.
